Privacy Policy for Pulll Mobile App

Last updated: February 18, 2018

Your privacy is important to Pelotonia LLC ("Pelotonia"). We developed this Privacy Policy to provide you with information on how we collect, use, share and store your Personal Information when you use the Pulll mobile application (the “Pulll App”).

Ways Pelotonia Collects and Uses Personal Information

“Personal Information” is information that, either alone or in combination with other information collected, identifies an individual. When we combine other information (i.e., information that does not, on its own, identify an individual) with Personal Information, we treat the combined information as Personal Information.

When You Create a Pulll Account

When you create a Pulll account, we will ask you to provide Personal Information, including your email address and name. You will use your email address and your password to log into your account. Your Pulll account will be password-protected. You may add additional information to your profile, such as a profile photo, types of activities you participate in (e.g., running or cycling), birthdate and your location. In order to share ride information through the PULLL App, you will need to enable GPS location tracking.

When You Share Your Activities and Activity Data

The Pulll App allows you to share your account information with others. You control the sharing of account information by managing the privacy settings in your Pulll App. Your account is set to “Private” by default. But you can select to share your account information with the public instead. Depending on your privacy setting, you may be able to share certain account information with the public. This information may include ride details, a map of your ride, including GPS information, or any content you create in the Pulll App. When you make this information available to the public, please be aware that you no longer control how others share or use this information. Even if your account is set to “Private”, others will be able to search for your account profile in the Pulll App, but they will only be able to see your name and profile photo.

When You Connect Your Pulll App to a Third-Party App

If you enable your Pulll account to access accounts you have with other app providers, such as MapMyRide® or Strava®, we will obtain information about you and your activities from such accounts (e.g., date, route, time, distance, etc.).

You may also choose to provide the Pulll app with access to your contacts on your mobile device. If you choose to do so, we use such information to help you add your contacts as connections in the Pulll App. We do not use your friends list or contacts for purposes of marketing specifically to your contacts, but you have the ability to invite your contacts to download the Pulll App.

When You Communicate with Us
When you interact with our support representatives via email, telephone, or online, we may collect Personal Information, such as your name, mailing address, phone number, email address and contact preferences. We also may create event logs that are useful in diagnosing app performance related issues. We use this information to provide you with app support or other assistance you may require. We may access your Pulll account in order to assist us in providing you the necessary assistance. To improve our service, subject to applicable laws, we may also record and review conversations with support representatives.

We may use Personal Information to communicate with you, including communicating with you about your account or transactions with us, giving you important information about the app or fundraising activities, sending you notice about material changes to this Privacy Policy, and, consistent with applicable laws and the choices available to you as described below under Your Choices Regarding Sharing of Content, sending you messages about content that may be of interest to you.

When You Grant Permissions to the Pulll App
To help give you a more personalized user experience, the Pulll App requests permission to access certain data from your mobile phone (e.g., SMS, Phone, Contacts, Location). These permissions are optional, but some features may not be available or fully functional if you decline them. You can change your mind (either to opt-in or opt-out) at any time through the settings menu of your mobile phone.

When You Use Location Features on Your Pulll App
If you activate the GPS feature during an activity, then location data associated with your activity will be tracked by the Pulll App. You will also be able to share or restrict the location for your activity, depending on your selection. You will have the option of including or removing maps from your activity summary.

Other Uses of Personal Information
We also may use your Personal Information for internal statistical, marketing or operational purposes, including generating fundraising reports and measuring and understanding demographics, user interests, purchasing and other trends among our customers.
Ways You May Share Your Personal Information or Direct Us to Share Your Personal Information

Activities and Activity Data
Your activities and activity data associated with your Pulll App account are set to “Private” by default. You may decide to allow the public to view your activities and activity data by changing the privacy settings in your Pulll account.

We will not transfer or sell your personal activity data to any third party without providing you prior notice and obtaining your consent.

Data You Direct Pelotonia to Share
You may direct us to share your Personal Information with other individuals or entities. For example, you might authorize us to permit a third party to make donations to your fundraising campaign through the Pulll App. We will not do this without your consent. We may, however, share aggregate information (that is information which does not identify you individually), with third parties. Once you direct us to share data with a third party, the third party’s handling of your Personal Information is the responsibility of that third party. If that third party is an entity, you should carefully review that entity’s privacy policy. You can choose to stop sharing data with a third party at any time within your Pulll App by adjusting your privacy settings.

Promotions
If you enter a sweepstakes, contest or similar promotion, we may use the information you provide to administer those promotions. To the extent that the terms and conditions of any such promotion regarding the treatment of Personal Information about you conflict with this Privacy Policy, the terms and conditions of the promotion will control.

Communication through the Pulll App
The Pulll App does not provide any features through which you can post information, messages, materials, or communicate with other users of the Pulll App. While others may be able to see your ride information, based on your privacy settings, nobody will be able to comment on your ride.

Tracking Technology
We collect data from users about their usage of the Pulll App. The types of analytical information that are collected include the date and time the app accesses our servers, app version, the location of the device, language setting, what information and files have been downloaded to the Pulll App, user behavior (e.g. what features used, frequency of use), device state information, device model, hardware and operating system information, and information relating to how the app functions. We use this data to improve the quality and functionality of the Pulll App; to

We may change this Privacy Policy from time to time as we add new features, as we improve our current offerings and as technologies and laws change. Any changes will become effective upon our posting of the revised Privacy Policy.

Consistent with applicable laws, this notice will be provided by email or by posting notice of the changes through the Pulll App.

Retention of Personal Information
We will retain your Personal Information for the period necessary to fulfill the purposes for which your Personal Information has been collected as outlined in this Privacy Privacy unless a longer retention period is required by law.
